Taylor told Justice McMahon that he Taylor told Justice McMahon that he had visited Miss Churchil's flat, with a friend named Whitmore. He said that Whitmore had stolen the stud, and he had pawned it for Whitmore. In the course of his testimony, Taylor told of buying beer at Miss Churchil's place for which he paid 25 cents a bottle.

On his testimony Miss Churchill was held while a complaint was taken against her. She denied that she had taken money for the beer when brought to the bar, but was held for trial.
